NICARAGUA CONCEDES RIGHTS

Secretary Hay and Senor Correa Sign a Treaty-United States Acquires Privileges for Construction of a Canal.

this morning, for the government of the United States, and Senor Correa, the Nicaraguan minister, for his own government, signed a treaty whereby the latter government concedes to the government of the United States the necessary rights and privileges within her bestowal for the construction of the Nicaraguan canal.

This action is taken in anticipation of congressional action upon the pending Nicaraguan canal bill and the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Pending the submission of the treaty to the Senate which body must ratify the agreement, its terms will not be made public. It

Washington, Dec. 1 .- Secretary Hay is understood, however, that generally Nicaragua grants to the United States government the exclusive right to con-struct and operate the canal between the Atlantic and Pacific across Nicara-gua, including the free use of the San Juan river and of Lake Managua as part of the water course. Nicaragua is also to rid herself of any outstanding treaties that would tend in any way to abridge the privilege to be acquired by the United States. It is understood also that Nicaragua concedes to the United States full authority to police the canal. Nicaragua is to receive in compensation a certain amount of the securties of the canal construction company, and although it is not possible now to learn the figure set down in the treaty, it is believed to approximate $50,000,000.

NAMED FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Joseph Geoghean Selected as Candidate in the Fourth.

TWO CONVENTIONS HELD.

Smaller One Named Judge Henderson -Calls for Convention in Other Municipal Wards.

A mass meeting of the voters of the Fourth municipal ward was held last night, pursuant to call of the Democratic and Republican precinct chairmen, for the purpose of naming a candidate for member of the school board, but the meeting divided and as a consequence there are two candidates in the field. They are Joseph Geoghegan, and Judge Henderson.

The meeting was called for Taggart's hall, but a few minutes before the hour of commencing, there was such a jam of people that it was not only uncomfortable, but was thought to be dangerous, as the crowd was too much of a strain upon the building. Through request therefor, Bishop M. S. Woolley, of the Twenty-first ward, proposed that the audience adjourn to the Twentyfirst ward meeting house, where they would have ample room. A vote re-sulted in about two-thirds of the people favoring the change of place. The remaining one-third,, representing most of the Henderson supporters, refused to stir and stayed at Taggart's hall.

GEOGHEGAN NOMINATED.

The regular convention re-assembled at the Twenty-first ward hall, in pur-suance of the adjournment. John Higham, the Republican precinct chairman, called the meeting to order and John T. Caine was elected chairman. Mr. Caine briefly stated the object of the meeting, after which Hon. O. F. Whitney arose and nominated Joseph Geoghegan. He said the latter was an enlightened and progressive citizen, a good business man, and would be a credit to the Fourth municipal ward as a member of the school board.

Hon. James Devine seconded the nom-ination in an earnest speech. He mentioned that reports had been made that Mr. Geoghegan was an enemy of the public school system. The speaker de-nounced the report as false and said that Mr. Geoghegan himself had expressed his firm friendship for the pub-lie schools. Judge George W. Moyer named Judge Henderson, re his past record on the board, and aver ring that there was no question as to his loyalty to the public schools. sembly then balloted, with the resulthat Geoghegan received 185 votes and Henderson 15. The former was de-clared the nominee of the convention.

The meeting was then adjourned Geoghegan states that he is heartily in sympathy with the public schools, and that if he is elected he will use his best endeavor to further their interests.

HENDERSON NAMED TOO.

The smaller portion of the people remained at Taggart's hall, which had been relieved of the great crush by the removal of the majority, and proceeded to business. T. F. Thomas called the ment as to the purpose of the gather ing, and suggested that L. M. Earl be made chairman of the meeting. The suggestion carried and Charles Rood was made secretary.

The name of Judge Henderson was then submitted in a speech by Fisher S Harris and he was nominated by aclamation, no opportunity being given

John T. Axton said that it had been suggested that Judge Henderson would not accept the nomination if tendered him. Some one said that the judge was downstairs and a committee of two was dispatched to escort him before the assembly and express his feelings in the matter.

He was brought forward and made a brief speech, saying that if the people desired him to serve on the school board he would accept the nomination and continue to use his efforts to maintain the Salt Lake schools at their pres ent high standard of excellence.

The schools in Salt Lake, says e, rank third in efficiency in the United States, and that the local corps of teachers could not be surpassed anywhere; that the schools of Salt Lake are discussed all over the Union when Salt Lake comes up for consideration.

He was not inclined like some to think that the expense of the schools were too great. In the education of the childran lies the safety of the Republic and he thought that the taxpayers of for the education of their children

A campaign committee was ther named consisting of Mesdames J. M E. A. Wilson and Susie Harper: Messrs W. H. Dale, W. R. Hutchinson, J. T. Axton, N. Y. Schoffeld and A. Richter. The meeting was then adjourned, and the regular convention nominee, Mr. Geoghegan, and his rival, will fight it out at the polls.

A meeting was held in the city and ounty building last night by representatives from the first municipal word. Joseph Weiler presided, and the subject of a member of the school board was Among the reasons out last night for not wanting Mr. Wil-son on the school board again were that he was an active partisan, and that he signed the ten-year lease for the pres ent high school building. Accuses Her Husband of Gross Cruelty, Extending Over 8 Years.

VOLUME OF MARITAL WOES.

Photograph of a Married Woman the Cause of a Part of the Domestic Troubles.

Edith Vail, the woman who created such a scene at the Sacred Heart academy in Ogden a few weeks ago in the rescue of her child by means of an empty revolver, filed a divorce suit against her husband, Elmer A. Vall, in the Third district court today. The complaint covers fifteen pages of typewritten copy, and recites a volume of marital woes. Plaintiff starts out by saying that she is a native of Sait Lake City where she was born on February 8th, 1873. Her husband is thirty-five years of age, and a civil engineer by profession. For the past nine years he has been in the employ of the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company, and is now its chief engineer, earning $150 per month salary. The marriage took place at Ogden on March 12, 1892, and plaintiff and defendant continued to live as man and wife up until last February, when they separated. The issue of the marriage was a girl, Gladys Orlean Vail, now in her seventh year.

shortly after the marriage, it is alleged, defendant began to treat plain-tif in a cruel and inhuman manner, and in his conduct in this regard, Mrs. Vall says, was continued during their married life. In the month of August, 1892, Vali is accused of slapping his wife's face, and between that date and February, 1894, he is said to have frequently choked her, and kicked her, Vail, his wife further says, is close and penurious in money matters, and whenever Mrs. Vall spent money for the actual necessities of life, defendant would become angry, during which ha would call her all kinds of vulgar and ness and cruelty it is cited that during the month of February, 1894, about a month before Gladys was how. month before Gladys was born, Mrs. Vall by permission of her husband, purchased a baby's outfit. Vall thought the baby clothing altogether too expensive, and in order to impress his belief upon Mrs. Vall, siapped, pushed her violently against the wall, and pinched her in various parts of her body.

PINCHED HER ARM.

The baby was born on March 10th, 1894, and four days later, plaintiff says, the defendant pinched ner arm, causing great suffering and pain for several days thereafter. During the progress

Two weeks after the child was born, Mrs. Vail says, me em-ployed a woman to wash some clothes, when her husband again called her names, said she could do her own washing, and refused to pay the hired woman. Plaintiff never bought herself or baby any clothes but her husband found fault and swore at her Frequently, she says, during their mar ried life, she was compelled to go where the defendant was employed to get money for actual living expenses.

HAD TO ASK FOR MONEY.

Once the defendant chided Mrs. Vail for going to his employer's office for money, and said, "If you don't keep away from that office I'll break your - neck for you." Whenever plaintiff would ask her husband to take her out to visit friends and acquaintances she

In 1894 defendant took plainff to live at the St. James hotel, and left her there almost very night until midnight. Other acts of cruelty are complained of and plaintiff says they became so common that she took no note of the dates or the number of times they occurred. On March 6th, 1895, the child, Gladys, accidentally fell through a trap door into a cellar, and in the fall broke her thigh bone. Defendant blamed his wife for the accident and abused her shamefully for allowing it.

HE LOVED ANOTHER.

During the summer of 1895, plaintiff alleges, Vail carried in his pocket the photograph of a married woman. He would tantalize Mrs. Vail by giving her an occasional glimpse of said married woman, and when Mrs. Vail threatened tear up the photograph, the fendant's reply, according to his wife, was: "I will mash you if you ever lay fingers on that picture. If anything should happen that you would die, I'd (pointing to the picture), marry her; and if I had known her before I did you, I would have married her in preference to you. If you die I will marry her then, because I love her."

It is also set out that defendant sent decoy letters to plaintiff under an assumed name, asking her to make dates with strange men.

The child, Gladys, was kidnapped while plaintiff was at the Theater, where she had been induced to go by defendant. Other acts of extreme cruelty are set out and plaintiff concludes by praying for an absolute decree, the care and custody of the child, temporary alimony and a restraining order to prevent the defendant interfering with plaintiff's possession of their child. Powers, Straup & Lippman are the attorneys for Mrs. Vail.

TEARS AND SMILES. Pickpocket Aaron Gets Off With One Year, but Expected Three.

Mike Aaron, the individual with a Hebrew cast of features, accused of stealing a purse from a young woman named Ida Judd on the corner of Teasdel's alley, Main street, on the 13th inst., appeared before Judge Cherry today and withdrew a former plea of not guilty to grand larceny, substituting it with one of guilty, and requesting immediate judgment.

Aaron shed copious tears in court and related several hard luck stories. Judge Cherry sentenced him to one year in the State prison.

The prisoner smiled several times as he was taken from the court room, but the cause for the smiles was unknown day's proceedings, the prosecution has to all, except Prosecutor Van Cott,

Aaron agreed with the former to change his plea providing the Judge wouldn't give him more than three years. Mr. Van Cott consented; Aaron got off with one year; hence the siniles,
